About Me

Born in Sunflower, Mississippi, raised in Chicago, Illinois and avid educator in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, my career trajectory arches over nearly 30 years in academia. I started my journey working with preschoolers in 1990 and officially joined Nextdoor Family in 1993. I worked with the homebase program for five years and I'm committed to providing children with a loving and developmental sound foundation that give a lifetime of learning.

My educational background: Bachelor in Early Childhood Education

Personal Statement

Education is ever- evolving. Children are entitled to love, creativity, exploration, patience, and an enduring commitment from educators to foster learning approaches best suited to meet their needs. I embrace this philosophy each day, while striving to inspire my students and developing a partnership with parents to continue learning outside of the classroom.
